

People think and act positively in a fresh working environment. It's often true that you can feel the tone of a healthy company as soon as you walk into the offices. Employees and visitors respond to a thoughtfully designed office layout. It brings out the best in people and that can only be good for business.

Apton partitioning from Dexion is designed with advanced CAD technology to maximise the potential of your working space. An impressive range of options and customised accessories offers individual style with ingenious space-efficiency.

Whatever your requirements – rationalising large departments or isolating a single office – Apton partitioning is designed to be installed without fuss and transform the workplace.

Make room for some fresh thinking

Divide and multiply

The mathematics make sense. Dividing workstations gives people space to maximise their potential. Apton partitions provide richness and texture to implement imaginative interior design. They are durable and hard-wearing to withstand the rigours of office life.

Apton partitions multiply your capacity for separate working areas, storage and filing facilities.

Relocatable partitioning is many times more adaptable for company expansion or rationalisation.

You can add to your partition units from a large range of options: handles, locks and door furniture, blinds, switches, lighting controls and custom designed vision panels provide the choice to reflect your company's style.

Take away intrusive noise. We all work better minus distractions. Sound reduction is available up to 50dB R'w. To minimise the risk of fire damage, fire resistance of 30 minutes and 60 minutes is available for your protection.

We all need our own space

Make room for colourful thinking

Apton Colourline offers partitioning in an impressive variety of colours. The emphasis is on choice, allowing interior design to reflect a company's house style, departmental colour-coding, or simply personal preference.

In aesthetic as well as practical terms, Apton provides the flexibility to make a design statement in the workplace.

Double-glazed with integral blinds, to give turn of a button privacy.

Even small areas become stylish.

Make room for Timberline

Apton's Timberline partitioning range offers the warmth of wood, the strength of steel and a certain confidence in the working environment.

This is the range that combines a traditional feel with the best of modern materials technology.

A wide choice of wall coverings and finishes gives the designer plenty of scope for improvisation.

Tough and resilient, Apton Timberline has all the benefits of Apton's fast, trouble-free installation and low maintenance.

Wall storage areas fit unobtrusively into the wider scheme.

Apton accessories – doors and door furniture, custom designed vision panels, switches, integral venetian blinds and trim details – provide almost limitless permutations to reflect a company's individuality.

Moving away from the traditional methods towards the hi-tech interior, Apton Silverline partitioning offers the uncompromising elegance of brushed steel. Here is a high-energy, contemporary look with all the qualities that make Apton partitioning easy to install, easy to live and work with.

Make room for new offices at short notice

Not many business decisions are as quick to implement as an Apton interior. Pick up the phone and you can have a new office next week (or we'll give you a very good reason why).

When you specify Apton, your order will be assembled off-site, so everything arrives finished. You'll notice a difference when we come to install it as well.

No carpentry. No painting. No decorating. No wet trades on site. All you have to do is move in and get down to business.

Full technical information on Apton partitioning is available on a CD, with images and installation details.
